

Passion on the Court: The Yangzheng Basketball Tournament Kicks Off

To enrich campus culture, strengthen students' physical health, and foster a spirit of teamwork, our school's Senior Grade 1 Boys' 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament officially kicked off in early November. Although the early winter breeze brought a chill to the air, the enthusiasm of the players remained high. They went all out on the court, embodying the spirit of sportsmanship with high morale and showcasing the vibrant youth of Yangzheng students.

The tournament is divided into two stages: knockout rounds and a round-robin system, with a schedule that is both intense and exciting. Throughout the games, the teams demonstrated not only great chemistry and collaboration but also a fierce competitive spirit. Every team gave their all, and every player radiated youthful energy through their hard work and determination.

On the court, the sound of footsteps, the pounding of the basketball, and brief, powerful communication between teammates combined to create an intense rhythm. Some teams executed clear tactics, creating scoring opportunities through precise pick-and-rolls and "give-and-go" plays. Other players relied on outstanding individual skills to break through defenses and score spectacular goals, winning waves of applause from the audience. The final moments of the games were often filled with suspense as the scores remained tight. A calm mid-range jump shot hitting the net was often all it took to seal the victory (a buzzer-beater). After a split second of silence, the court would erupt in cheers and high-fives, pushing the atmosphere to its climax. The fighting spirit, team chemistry, and the grace to shake hands after the match painted a moving picture of youth on the Yangzheng campus.

This basketball tournament is a vivid example of Yangzheng Middle School's "Big Sports and Arts" curriculum in action. It not only toughened the students' will and strengthened team cohesion but also truly put into practice the educational philosophy of "Health First and Comprehensive Development." We firmly believe that the continuous development of sports and cultural activities will inject lasting vitality into our school. It will support Yangzheng Middle School on its path of moral education, helping to cultivate a new generation of students with strong bodies, sound personalities, and the courage to take on responsibility.

注: 图片均选自“福建省养正中学”公众号

Yangzheng Middle School Holds First Campus Football Carnival

On the evening of November 24, 2025, the 1st Campus Football Carnival of the Yangzheng Middle School Education Group was successfully held at the Jianghai Stadium on the main campus. Co-organized by the Moral Education Department and the PE Department, the event was themed "Soaring Youth, Setting Sail from the Pitch." Eighteen classes from Senior Grade 1 participated enthusiastically, collectively igniting the vitality of the green field in the early winter.

This Football Carnival featured nine fun football challenge games and adopted a "dual-track rotation" model to organize the matches. Classes 1 through 9 rotated counter-clockwise to take on challenges, while Classes 10 through 18 moved in a clockwise direction. Stations were switched every eight minutes to ensure that everyone could participate and enjoy a diverse range of experiences.

Before the event began, staff members arranged the boundary lines neatly and stood ready. After the 18 teams lined up and entered their respective challenge zones in order, the referees explained the rules in detail. As the event kicked off, the rhythm of youth immediately surged across the field: running, passing, and shooting — movements were smooth and powerful. Cheers and the sound of high-fives rose one after another.

Students found joy in the challenges and fostered chemistry through cooperation. Homeroom teachers also transformed into "team leaders" on the sidelines, constantly cheering for their squads, creating a warm scene of interaction between teachers and students.

The green field lights up vitality, and sports promote growth. This Football Carnival aimed to encourage more students to get in touch with football and fall in love with the sport. It sought to expand the popularity of football, deepen the development of our school as a "Football Specialty School," and inject vigorous energy into our campus sports culture.